DAWID BUGAJSKI

FRONT-END DEVELOPER

With several years of experience in web development and a year as a Frontend Developer, I have a profound passion for crafting clean and user-friendly interfaces. My journey began at WeNet, where I initially served as a Web Developer for two years before advancing to the role of New Product Development Manager. Currently, I am honing my skills at Emotivo, focusing on frontend development. My work is fueled by collaboration, a keen pursuit of innovation, and a steadfast commitment to continuous learning in the tech industry.
